

MATTER OF SENTIMENT HAS EFFECT ON MARKET

Trading Is at Standstill, Except for Minor Transactions in Old Lots.

HITS FOR NEW CITY NOTES

Little Business, However, Is Reported—Readjustment of Foreign Exchange Position May Be Further Complicated—Call Money Lower.

By BROADWAY WALL. There was a heavy tone in London and local bankers were less cheerful, following the disaster to three British cities. It was entirely a matter of sentiment, however, for trading in the standard securities was not affected in any way.

Hide of the premium was made for the new city three percent notes, but little business was reported. Attempts to negotiate listed bonds at the clearinghouse failed in some cases because the buyers would not take their bids to the limit set by the committee. Steel and Ammunition options were more freely offered on the New York market, but the amounts were small.

Some of the London brokers reported that their London brothers proposed to begin trading on a cash basis without previously settling their accounts. It was felt that the adoption of such a course would delay the reopening of our stock exchange position.

Runners that German merchants were "settling" their accounts with the London bankers in the form of gold was a threat to the London market, but the London bankers showed considerable business feeling, but few new orders were being placed. The London market has reached a steady state at 120, while the New York market is at 120.

Stockholders are still reticent, however, as a number have placed their money in the hands of real estate men for rental and others have sought temporary employment in other callings. The London market is still offering high call money, but the London market is still offering high call money, but the London market is still offering high call money.

New York, September 23.—Mercantile paper: Sterling exchange, steady; for cables, 84.50; for demand, 84.50; for silver, 84.50. Exchange on London, 120.00.
